

Not guilty plea entered for King murder suspect

ATLANTA (UPI) — A chunky black man, describing himself as a "Hebrew" on a mission, pleaded not guilty today to charges of murdering the mother of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Marcus Wayne Chenault, 23, of Dayton, Ohio, first sought to plead no contest to charges of murdering Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr. and a church deacon, but assented to other counts.

But Judge William Brock, who ordered him held over to Fulton County grand jury without bond, directed that the pleas be changed, to not guilty.

Chenault, accompanied by attorney Randy Bassett, who said he was hired to defend the suspect by a person who didn't want to be identified, was in the arraignment hearing for 20 minutes before being taken to the county jail. After he was identified by witnesses as the man who fired two pistols at Ebenezer Baptist Church Sunday, killing King, 39, and his son, Edward Boykin, 68, Bassett said Chenault wanted to make a statement.

"My name is Servant Jacob," the accused man said. "I am a Hebrew. I was sent here on a mission and it is partially accomplished."

Chenault refused to comment when asked about events in the church, but replied "I assume that I have" when asked if he had shot anyone.

Afterwards, when asked what Chenault means by saying his mission was not fully accomplished, Bassett said "he still had not confronted Martin Luther King Sr."

He said the suspect was "not a member of any church. His acknowledgement of being a Hebrew is from revelations to him."

Bassett said Chenault had told him "this god is the god of Jacob" and Chenault had "denounced his immediate family," claiming he had no "earthly family."

Atlanta police have expressed doubt there was a conspiracy in the church shooting, in which a third person, Mrs. Jimmie Mitchell, 65, was wounded during a barrage of bullets.

"There is nothing to indicate at this time that there was a conspiracy," Assistant Police Chief J. J. Mullins said.

Police said Chenault, a black graduate education student at Ohio State University, fired his weapons at the scattering congregation.

until they apparently clicked empty; then he tried to flee out the back of the church but was overpowered by pursuers, including one of Mrs. King's godsons.

"Please hit me, please don't hit me; they did it to me in the car," he pleaded with his captors.

Police said the gunman intended victim, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., 74, was just entering the church when the shooting started, and Mrs. King became a victim because she was the nearest to him.

Police in Columbus, Ohio, said they found a list of names in Chenault's apartment containing what they believed to be "possible targets." King's name was on the list, composed largely of prominent civil rights leaders.

Nixon limp reported

MINSK, U.S.S.R. (UPI) — President Nixon limped noticeably as he arrived here today, showing obvious discomfort from the swollen veins in his legs for the first time on his Soviet trip.

Reporters noticed the limp as Nixon walked along a receiving line at Moscow's Red Square yesterday apparently trying to cover it. Nixon quickened his step and left for formal greetings to shake hands with a small crowd of spectators.

White House physician disclosed when Nixon was en route to Moscow that he was still suffering a swelling of veins in the left leg that began during his Middle East tour.

Refusing Zugmeyer hits Va.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Refusing Navy Adm. Elmo Zumwalt says he turned down an offer to head the Nixon Administration because the "hostile political situation" has made it impossible for the agency to meet the needs of Vietnam-era veterans.

Zumwalt, who retires today after four years as chief of naval operations, also repeated his belief that the Navy had "lost control of the sea."

A spokesman for the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa confirmed that Balchikov had left the troupe after its last performance here Saturday night but said he did not know if the dancer had yet contacted immigration authorities.

However, the Canadian Broadcast Corporation (CBC) reported it had learned that Balchikov spoke to the immigration department Sunday and was to go before the immigration board Tuesday for a hearing.

Educated rally Strikers reject Simplot proposal

By ED MITCHELL
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — A contract proposal by J. R. Simplot Co. was rejected Sunday by members of the American Federation of Glassblowers Union.

Members of the union who have been on strike at the Heyburn Smelter since May 22 rejected the offer of a 4-cent-an-hour raise.

They indicated a willingness to continue the strike into its third month.

Union International vice president Lloyd Ott told the group, "we have not lost this strike but we cannot win it." He said that the union would have to agree not to fire workers who have crossed the picket lines during the strike if a settlement with the company is to be reached.

The Simplot Company has hired enough new employees and has had an adequate number of returning union members to operate the Heyburn and Caldwell plants on a partial production basis during the strike. The company has pledged to keep its present workers after a settlement is reached with the union.

The union has demanded that all union members who began the strike May 2 be returned to their old jobs.

One said that of the 950 union members who went on strike at the Heyburn plant, 222 have resigned from the union to go back to work and 150 have been subsequently replaced by company workers.

The major issue in the company proposal is a contract clause calling for a "no strike." Under such a contract, company employees would not be required to belong to the union, weakening union power. Several union members took the floor-to-object and called for union sanctions against picket crosses.

The union members indicated approval of a proposal allowing 14 exempt weeks the first year, 10 the second year and 6 in the last year of the contract.

Exempt weeks are weeks in which regular overtime rates are not in effect. After the third year of the contract federal law will require the elimination of exempt weeks.

The average wage increase under this proposal would be 35 cents an hour the first year, 25 cents the second year, and 35 cents the last year of the contract. This would not be an across the board increase since many workers would come under an upgrading of work classifications.

McGovern rejects 'easy way,' plans to sit as impeachment juror

(1) Newsweek News Service
WASHINGTON, Sen.

George McGovern of South Dakota, the 1972 Democratic presidential nominee and the principal target of Watergate "dirty tricks," has considered disqualifying himself as a juror in a Senate trial if President Nixon is impeached by the House of Representatives.

But McGovern has rejected such a move as "the easy way" and because he is reluctant to make himself the subject of a Senate vote, as required by the Rules.

Defeated decisively by Nixon in the presidential election two years ago, McGovern now faces a fierce battle to keep his seat in the Senate, and apparently does not wish to convey the impression he is "copping out."

Originally, the suggestion that he stand aside in the event of a Senate impeachment trial was made by Col. Leo K.

Thorness, a retired Air Force officer, Medal of Honor winner and longtime Watergate prosecutor, who is the Republican candidate for McGovern's Senate seat.

A l t h o u g h — McGovern was not entirely the motivating factor — I had heard the "suggestion" from others who felt I might do well to stand down because I was so directly affected by the individual involved — I thought I should look into the possibility, McGovern said in an interview.

Accordingly, he said, he checked the procedures and precedents, and found that in reality it would be easier said than done.

"I would have to ask the permission of the Senate to do it, and it would take a vote of the Senate for me to vote 'present' instead of 'aye' or 'nay' at the end of the trial," McGovern said.

"In view of the problems involved if it were to disqualify me, I would rather take on a juror's honor and be impeached, cash in my chips, than do what I was the President's opponent in 1972."

Rule 12 of the Standing Rules of the Senate says:

"Each senator shall declare his assent or dissent to the question unless excused by the Senate."

"When a Senator declines to answer a question, he shall have the right to assign his reasons therefor, and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the Senate. Shall the Senator, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate, and these proceedings shall be had after the roll call and before the results are announced; and any further proceedings in reference thereto shall be after such announcement."

The special rules of procedure and practice used when the Senate sits as a court of impeachment fails to deal with refusal of a Senator to vote and it is believed that no Senator ever has withdrawn in the 13 previous impeachment trials.

McGovern, who once studied for the ministry and held summer pulpits while a divinity student, said he was "never, too terribly serious" about withdrawing.

"But in view of the suggestions — and the circumstances — I took into account the fact that I wasn't burdened with this sort of thing in a campaign year, it would be the easy way. But to take that course wouldn't be easy at all."

McGovern refuses to say he expects the House to impeach the President, but gives every indication he believes it will. He feels Nixon should remain in office until the constitutional process of impeachment has been concluded — with a finding of innocence or guilt.

"I am in a minority, I suppose, but I don't think President Nixon should resign," the senator said. "We have gone through the trauma already — so nothing would be gained by resignation. The responsibility is to clear the air."

"But I certainly wish they would speed it up over in the House. I suppose John Doar [impeachment counsel] is a careful man who wants to cross every i and dot every t — and I suppose he will do that."

Thorness, who has some very clever people," McGovern said. "Congressional Medal of Honor winners aren't new to me. I beat one (former Gov. Jon Foss, in 1962), and now I'm running against another."

Accused killer had own religion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Marcus Wayne Chenault took religion, although admittedly his own brand, seriously. A first year graduate student in professional education at Ohio State University here, Chenault, 23, Dayton, Ohio, had learned the Moslem system to preach sermons to neighbors.

Sunday, he was arrested and charged with murder in the shooting deaths of Albert King, mother of slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., and another person during a religious service at an Atlanta church. A third person was wounded by the gunfire. "Marcus had a religion all of his own," said Richard Kish, an OSU senior from Hurricane, W.Va., who lived next door to Chenault's apartment house.

"He was a very religious person," the neighbor said.

"but it was his own brand of religion. He borrowed some from Christianity and from the Moslem religion. He seemed to have studied the Bible and used to talk a lot in biblical terms, using phrases like 'in the year Jacob' and the Russians are the bear."

The same 24-year-old neighbor said he had a conversation with Chenault this spring about religion.

"I can't swear by everything the neighbor said," he said, adding Martin Luther King in love esteem because he thought King was doing it (civil rights work) for the money and the fame and not for the real cause.

Another neighbor, who declined to identify himself, said Chenault believed in God and was very religious.

Bullets reported in Patty's home

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI declined to comment Sunday on a report that cyanide-filled bullets were found hidden in the apartment of Patricia Hearst, Feb. 3, the day before the newspaper heiress was abducted by the Symbionese Liberation Army.

The San Francisco Examiner quoted sources as saying the FBI entered a chance to trace and possibly rescue Miss Hearst, only 25 days later.

"They had a near-perfect chance and they blew it," the newspaper quoted one local investigator as saying.

And — the San Francisco Chronicle reported today's edition of the FBI identified the SLA as Miss Hearst's kidnappers within 24 hours after she was taken from her Berkeley apartment.

The paper also said agents had identified Donald DeFreeze as one of the kidnappers within that time span. DeFreeze, the SLA's "general field marshal Clinque," was killed in a shootout with Los Angeles police.

Three days after the abduction, the SLA took responsibility for the kidnapping in letters to the media. DeFreeze was not publicly linked to the kidnapping until more than a week after that.

Peron improves

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — A team of doctors reported a slight improvement in the grave condition of Hugo Domingo Peron, 75, shortly after the ailing Argentine president overthrew his wife, the Argentine officials pledged support Sunday for Peron's wife, Maria Estela, the Western Hemisphere's first woman president.

"In the last 24 hours, Lt. Gen. Juan Domingo Peron has undergone favorable evolution in his clinical condition," a communiqué said Sunday night. The medical bulletin indicated the 78-year-old Argentine was holding his own in a two-week-old battle against a bronchial infection that has apparently aggravated an old heart ailment.

Planes hunt triple slayer

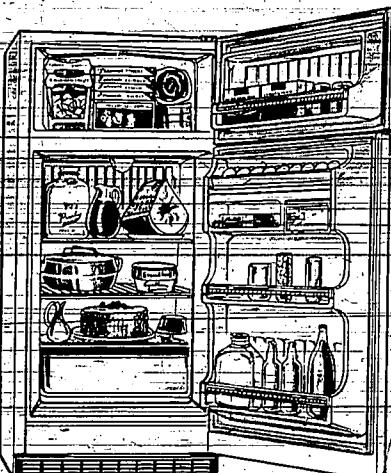

WILLOWS, Calif. (UPI) — Search planes criss-crossed dairy and rice farm country in Northern California Sunday looking for an "extremely crazy" triple slayer who is on the loose and has not been caught — a young widow and her children.

"We're trying every darn thing we can do," Glenn County Sheriff Ben Kurnig said late Sunday.

An all-points bulletin extended the search for a 6-2, 240-pound woodcutter across the tiny

NY discotheque fire claims 24

(C) New York Times Service
PORT CHESTER, N.Y. Surface of smoke from a flash fire trapped and killed 24 panic-stricken young patrons and employees of a singles bar astride the New York-Connecticut border early Sunday morning.

More than 100 men and women in their late teens to early 20s were dancing to the music of Gulliver's on the outskirts of the city when the leader stopped the music to announce that there was a small fire.

Within minutes, the survivors said, the smoky, smoke-filled room exploded. "The Pit" was a "tornado of thick black smoke and screaming, terror-stricken people. The narrow staircase to the exit was suddenly packed with people clawing one another for air.

Most of the 24 bodies were found at the foot of the stairs leading from the dance floor to the exit, atop one another. Others were scattered around the dance floor, the last charred among the twisted instruments of the rock band. Dr. Henry Siegel, the Westchester County medical examiner, said that 17 of the victims were female and 13 male. All but one or two, he said, appeared to be between the ages of 18 and 25. All died of carbon monoxide poisoning, but most were subsequently burned, making identification difficult.

In addition to the dead, 17 patients and 10 firemen were treated at United Hospital in Port Chester and Greenwich Hospital in Greenwich, Connecticut, for smoke inhalation, minor burns and bruises. Of the 17 who remained hospitalized, all were listed in satisfactory condition.

"This is one of the worst tragedies in the history of the county," said Westchester County executive Alfred Delbello. Westchester District Attorney Carl Vergari had investigators on the scene at dawn, while firemen were still hunting down Gulliver's ruins, and prompted an inquiry into the operation of the bar and the cause of the fire.

Fire parents in the affluent area, the hours after the fire were night of helpless anxiety, calling hospitals and awaiting news. Some were overjoyed when their children came home, smoky and shaken. For others, the waiting extended into the night.

Henley trial jury selection to start

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The ladder he used to kill his prospective law firm mates has subpoenaed 124 witnesses for the trial today of Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, charged with killing six of the 27 youths murdered during a three-year sex torture spree.

District Judge Preston Dial has indicated he will consider several defense motions before the beginning of jury selection. One motion asked that the charges against Henley be dismissed because of discrimination in choosing the grand jury that decided to indict him. Court-appointed attorneys Bill Gray and Edwin P. Pegelow of Houston and Rudy Equivel of San Antonio have said they will attempt to prove Henley was insane and not responsible for his actions at the time of the killing.

Harris County District Attorney Carol Vance and his assistant, Don Lambright of Houston, head the prosecution, headed by San Antonio prosecutor Lucien Campbell.

The trial was moved on a change of venue from Houston, where the killing occurred. Dial again moved the trial from his 70-seat courtroom to a larger 150-seat hall on the first floor of the old red stone courthouse. He is confident a jury can be found quickly and has set July 8 as the first day for testimony.

California leads in telethon funds

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — California led the states in helping Democrats raise a record high of nearly $7 million during a 21-hour telethon featuring songs, jokes, skits and speeches.

The telethon, which ended 7 p.m. PDT Sunday, was the party's third effort and its biggest. During the nationally televised fund-raising extravaganza, politicians and entertainers solicited and received pledges totaling $6,907,442 by telephone, credit card and mail.

The figure surpassed the $5.3 million pledged in 1973, of which $4.4 million actually was collected. The first telethon in 1972 netted the party about $4 million.

Leading the states in pledges was California with $710,000, followed by New York with $350,000 and Texas with $240,000.

About two hours before the end of the telethon, the audience was cleared from the CBS-TV studios because of two dogs that crawled into the studio, but no explosives were found and the audience was allowed to return.

4 injured in crash

SILVER CITY, N.M. (UPI) — A military helicopter dispatched to survey the damage caused by five large forest fires in the San Juan National Forest Sunday night, injuring all four persons aboard.

They were the first injuries reported in connection with the fires. The first to die, a pilot, consumed 27,000 acres of valuable timber land and a forest service spokesman said he could not remember a fire so massive in the last 10 years.

The helicopter, believed to be from Ft. Bliss, crashed into the forest, injuring three soldiers and one forest service official.

All four persons aboard the helicopter were initially "shaken up," while the fourth, who was on board may have broken his hip in the crash. All four were hospitalized in Silver City.

Ethiopia troops seal off city

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — Under cover of early morning darkness, rebellious troops today began sealing off the Ethiopian capital, rounding up the country's leading noblemen and some government officials.

Western diplomatic sources said several hundred persons probably had been arrested by the army since it seized virtual power in Ethiopia Friday.

Working under the cover of a dusk-to-dawn curfew, hundreds of troops left Sunday night and today seized exclusive parts of the city and besieged the houses, sources said, rounding up leading members of the aristocracy.

By midmorning, many of the troops had withdrawn, leaving only a few soldiers guarding key installations. Stores and businesses opened normally.

Diplomats said the reason for the curfew was not to enforce law and order, but to carry out their roundup without hindrance.

Emperor Haile Selassie, 81, who had at one time was reported thinking of retiring to a country place for the time being, drove to his downtown office with his normal escort, waving at passersby and looking fit.

The rebellious soldiers said they were still loyal to the aging monarch.

DEAR ABBY: You discouraged a reader who wanted to acquire a chimpanzee for a pet saying: "When a chimp reaches sexual maturity, he becomes frustrated, listless and unpredictable."

As an anthropologist-father of three teenagers, I would like to point out that you can sell a mature, healthy chimp to a zoo for twice what you paid for it as an infant, or for a comparable tax deduction. What do you know of any zoo that will make a deal?

There is much to be said in favor of raising chimps.

When you "dip into savings," you dip into its earning power, too. There are several ways around that.

The dip becomes a scoop.

When you dip into savings, you cut back on the ability to earn. That's obvious.

And with our plan in which interest is compounded, you dock yourself even more.

But there are alternatives.

Put the special purchase on Master Charge and if you pay it in 30 days, you use the money free. When you take a bit longer, it's only 1 1/2% per month on each month's balance until paid.

Or, use Line-O-Credit on your Idaho First checking account.

Either way you've preserved your savings and its earning power.

And something more. You've held out for your original savings objective.

Delegate attends conference

By MAJORIE LIERMAN Times-News Writer

FILER — A Filer youth returned home Friday evening from the YMCA Youth Governor's Conference with a "much better understanding of the political life of the Capitol."

Brent Thaete spent a week at the conference in Washington, D. C., which he attended as a child justice delegate from the Gem County delegation.

Potentially attended as a governor delegate and the two were the only delegates from Idaho.

Thaete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thaete. Filer. He had the distinction of coming from the smallest town of any of the 46 boys and girls who attended the sessions.

In fact, he says, what impressed him the most during the meeting was hearing of the problems of integration, busing and the exceedingly high crime rate.

When Thaete told of a current Idaho problem of a shortage of baling twine for farmers, none of the other delegates understood what he meant.

Thaete was selected for the honor of representing Idaho during a pre-annual YMCA session in Twin Falls last Friday.

Washington was the largest ever to attend the sessions with a total of 35 boys and ten girls on hand for the sessions.

Both of the delegates from Texas were girls, Thaete said, showing the effects of Women's Lib even among youth.

The delegates met every morning of the week at the YMCA auditorium to set up schedules for the day. During the week they met with a representative of the Soviet Delegation, a lecture on impeachment from the historical department by a member of the Library of Congress, met with the number of senators for a luncheon, and had appointments with Idaho's Sen. James McClure and Rep. Orval Hansen.

They attended a banquet and heard national speakers from the YMCA, and toured the Capitol and White House where the workings of the different executive departments were explained.

They had to meet with Vice President Gerald Ford but the vice president was unable to adjust his schedule to meet with them.

On Sunday, the group attended church at All Soul's Unitarian Church in Washington, D. C., and afterwards were hosted at a dinner in Virginia.

Thaete was graduated this spring from the Kiser High School and will attend the University of Idaho where he will major in architecture. During his junior year he was a delegate to Boys State.

Major oil firm indictment eyed

(C) New York Times Service
NEW YORK — An indictment against at least one of the country's major oil companies, charging violations of New York state's antitrust laws, was expected to be handed up to the New York State Supreme Court.

According to investigative sources the indictment will cite the company's marketing practices, which allegedly were aimed at eliminating competition from independent gasoline retailers in the state, including the granting of rebates to favored stations. The charges will be filed by a special state grand jury empaneled in March to look into possible criminal violations of the Sherman Act, the state's antitrust statute.

Prosecutors, in their briefs, charged that the company's interference with governmental administration and conspiracy to commit these crimes.

It could not be learned which of the seven companies under investigation was to be charged or what the specific charge would be. But it was known that the investigation of the other companies was continuing.

The jury which was formed at the insistence of Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz, has been meeting once or twice each week since late March, hearing evidence and witnesses in connection with several investigations by Lefkowitz's Antitrust Investigation Division into what the attorney general

Help asked in probe

CALDWELL — Canyon County Prosecutor C. Robert Yost said he will ask a state agency for help today in the investigation into the death of a four-and-one-half-month-old Caldwell girl.

Dora Vicki Contreras, the daughter of Rosalino and Angelina Contreras of rural Caldwell, died Saturday morning of a massive skull fracture, Yost said.

Blackfoot youth drown

BLACKFOOT (UPI) — Russell Jenkins, 9, Blackfoot, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Jenkins, Blackfoot, drowned late Saturday afternoon in the cold, rocky Green River.

Blackfoot police said two Blackfoot men, Gail Sage and Jerry Carlson, were approaching a floating dock in their boat when they saw Jenkins boy struggling in the water.

Police said Jenkins swam to the boy's rescue but couldn't locate him. The Blairstown Sheriff's Rescue Patrol found the youth but attempts to revive him failed.

Weekend range fires reported

SHOSHONE — Two small range fires were reported over the weekend in the Shoshone district by the Bureau of Land Management. Wallace Fizzen, fire control officer and both burned west of Shoshone along the railroad tracks. The first fire, which was one acre, burned eight acres and the other covered 65 acres.

Mike Green, public information officer for the Shoshone district in Boise, said nothing is the information office there. Fizzen said there are fires in the Vale, Ore. area and in Colorado, Utah and Arizona, requiring additional assistance from the Idaho state office.

Blood drawing

TODAY — Blood drawing is being contemplated by a veteran donor, Bill Madland, one of the first donors in Twin Falls. College students such as Miss Cook are being asked to donate to help the summer bloodmobile lull. The drawing is from 1 to 6 p.m. in the Catholic Parish Hall.

TF sets 150 pint quota

now, and there was no formal organization," he

Madland said he has a blood type that nearly anyone can use and he was called on frequently to give blood.

Under the bloodmobile program he has given 150 gallons but has probably been donating longer than most people in the community.

Anyone 18 years of age or older may donate blood. Red Cross special appeal during this time to the young people who will be out of college and away from the places they have been giving blood in the past. College students home for the summer are asked to donate during the drawing at the Catholic Parish Hall today.

Road-seek hot summer months, with many people out of town on vacation, are difficult for the bloodmobile program, but blood is badly needed in the summer.

Vacation driving, and especially the coming holiday weekend, frequently results in serious accidents and a need for blood, he said.

Vandals incarcerated

TWIN FALLS — Two vandals were incarcerated Sunday after being caught in the midst of a spree of destruction in Twin Falls.

City police were called to several homes where owners reported shrub, lawn and vegetable and flower gardens damaged.

Mary Ortega, the first to call, said it appeared someone had taken a hoe and gone through her garden uprooting her flowers. She resides at 200 Elm St.; Mrs. Ortega told officers she didn't know of anyone who was mad at her.

Later on Fred Granger, Boise, called police to say he saw the culprits digging up flowers at the Vess Whitaker residence, 232 5th St. S. The two white pigs were taken into custody and placed in a pen at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission.

Canyon jump security eyed by law officials

TWIN FALLS — State and local law enforcement officers will meet July 12 to begin security preparations for Evel Knievel's jump.

Twin Falls Sheriff Paul Corder has called the meeting to coordinate efforts by various law enforcement agencies. The possibility of calling out the Idaho National Guard will be discussed.

Attending the meeting are National Guard Adj. Gen. George Bennett, Commissioner John Bender, head of the Department of Law Enforcement, and Col. Kenneth DeYoung, Superintendent of the State Police.

Sheriffs from Jerome, Gooding and Cassia counties were asked to attend the meeting also, Corder said, and invited to bring all interested persons. Prosecuting attorneys, city chiefs or other heads will be included.

Lt. Roy Dennis, district director of the State Police, and Lt. Col. Frank Barnett will participate in the planning session.

All days off and vacations have been cancelled for sheriff's deputies during the first week of September, Corder said, an annual policy during County Fair week.

State Police-Supt. De Young said his men haven't had their days off cancelled yet, but anticipates such a move.

Law enforcement officials will discuss problems concerning the Sept. 1 jump by Knievel and the large crowds predicted for the event.

Expo funds sidetracked

BOISE (UPI) — More than half of Idaho's $50,000 federal grant for expenditure on Expo '74 will be spent on nine affiliate radio spots featuring the voice of Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.

An aide to the governor, Pat Vaughn, denied the spots were also aimed at helping Andrus' re-election campaign, and said "he's still the governor. What better voice to use than the governor of the state?"

The commercials will cost a total of $25,556 and are scheduled to run on 30 radio stations in 19 cities.

The Idaho grant is part of $150,000 allotted by the Pacific Northwest Regional Commission (PNRC) for spending on the World's Fair. Each of the three northwestern states could spend up to $50,000 on fair-related projects.

Scott Brown, PNRC staff director, said Oregon spent the bulk of its grant on the state exhibit at the fair. Washington put about $10,000 into the Pacific Northwest Travel Booth run jointly by the PNRC and the rest went to help fund the Afro-American exhibit.

New laws take effect in Gem

The new law basically defines a public agency as any state agency, except the courts, including state boards, commissions, departments, sub-agencies and educational institutions. Regional and local boards and commissions are also public agencies, as well as school districts.

The definition of an executive session, during which the meeting can be closed, is tightened up in the new law. The only reasons recognized for conducting an executive session include personnel matters, labor negotiations, property acquisition, trade matters and discussion of records exempt by law from public inspection.

If an executive session is held, the public must be informed of the reasons for closing the meeting. No final action or decision can be made during an executive session.

During meeting sessions, the law requires that written minutes be taken and made available to the public "within a reasonable time after the meeting." The minutes must include members of the government body present, all motions and resolutions proposed and the results of all votes.

The legislation also opens meetings of state legislative committees, including standing, special or select committees of either house, to the public. Participation in the committee is only permitted with approval by the committee itself.

City police reported the man was travelling on Range Road near the intersection of Park Avenue. As he turned on the intersection, he told officers, he hit a tire on his cycle stick and was unable to slow down. He said he was thrown from the cycle as it overturned.

Sharp was treated at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital and released.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices floundered Monday in the last trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow-Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue-chip stocks was up 2.27, at 804.68, shortly before noon. But declining issues led advances, 609 to 477, among the 1,460 issues crossing the tape.

The two-hour volume amounted to around 4,070,000 shares, compared with 5,100,000 traded during the same period Friday. The market was quiet, with no major up or down movements, but investors were on the sidelines and analysts said signs were awaiting news from the First National Bank of Chicago on whether it would raise its recording prime rate to 12 or more per cent.

The prime rate—that charged key corporate customers—has risen generally to 11½ per cent within the past week. The ultra-high rates have concerned investors for weeks, and kept trading on the NYSE light.

Washington—The market was most active, up 4 at 13½ on 18,500 shares. The stock lost 1½ last week after reports that the company officials denied the firm was having financial problems. Early in the day, the firm announced it was converting a $500 million credit line.

Texaco was second, off 1½.

25 on 91,200 shares. Federal National Mortgage was third, unchanged at 14½ on 89,700 shares.

NFL veterans are ready for strike beginning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — National Football League veterans and stars swing solidly into formation for the start Monday of the fourth major league sports strike in four years with the battle slogan "No Freedom, No Football."

The walkout officially was set to begin at midnight Sunday and the 26 NFL players and the 12 NFL Players Association pickets are scheduled to appear Wednesday in Sun Devil Stadium to change open their pre-season camp to rookies.

Only one major player, linebacker Mike Curtis of the Baltimore Colts, openly has vowed to cross the picket lines but player representatives from the 26 teams reported support of the strike. Action was almost unanimous.

Negotiations with the owners' Management Council over a new contract broke off last Wednesday, fondering on a series of so-called "freedom clauses" which would permit players to switch teams once their contracts expire and have a veto over possible trades. The second NFL players' strike since 1970 — baseball also has had two strikes in that time — originated by upstarts, and the other by players threatened to deride the exhibition schools starting with the College All-American against the Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins in Chicago July 26.

Miami player representative Dennis Tannen countered personally with Ed Twilley, executive director of the players' union, earlier in the week, and reported the Dolphins veterans would boycott their camp.

He also said a majority of the team has agreed that the traditional college all-star game should not be played if the strike persists, although wide receiver Howard Twilley has advocated playing the game.

Both the exhibition Dolphins will have to give up some money, he commented. "But they've been to the Super Bowl three straight years and what more do they want? I think Howard ought to re-examine his values."

Both the union and the club owners have sought to enlist support of the rookies and free agents who are not bound eligible for NFLPA membership until the regular season begins.

Dempsey said of the newcomers: "We won't find out until they cross the picket lines. The Eagles aren't going to get involved in any violence. We're just going to talk to them and explain what we're doing — that everything we're striking for will be for them too. We're not going to apply any threats, just try to convince them."

Pearson expressed hope there will be a settlement. Tom Dempsey of the Philadelphia Eagles said support of the strike among his team mates is "solid, very solid. We won't have any veterans going in."

BIG OWENS of the Washington Redskins reported that about 20 veterans who have been working out individually at the team's practice facilities are switching to a college fieldhouse beginning Monday because of the strike.

He also said a majority of the traditional college all-star game should not be played if the strike persists, although wide receiver Howard Twilley has advocated playing the game.

U.S. tennis sweethearts save Wimbledon from early disaster

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — America's tennis sweethearts, Jimmy Connors and Chris Evert, saved the Wimbledon championships from total disaster after the wettest first week in 50 years which saw the players spend more time in the locker rooms than on the courts.

Connors, the joint U.S. No. 1 from Belleville, Ill., played a dramatic five-setter with Australian Phil Dent, the man he defeated in the Australian finals last January, while poker-faced Chris, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., was taken to an 11-9 third set before she got by Lesley Hunt of Australia. Otherwise, the rain dominated all conversation, despite the presence of the strongest men's field for three years.

The long-suffering British fans, paying an $8 top, were shortchanged in the quantity of play they did see. "No one seed fell in either singles division, now down to the last 32, and few matches went the distance," tournament referee Mike Gibson, with a backlog of 180 matches by Saturday, took the unprecedented step of ordering play to commence two hours earlier than the normal 2:30 p.m. start Saturday and Monday in an effort to catch up with the program.

"If it remains clear during the second week, we'll be able to make it," Gibson said, "but it will be hard on the players."

Johnny Rutherford stages rally for victory in 500 mile Pocono

MT. POCONO, Pa. (UPI) — Johnny Rutherford, getting a break when leader Wally Dallenbach blew an engine on the 189th lap, added a Pocono 500-mile victory to his Indianapolis 500 and the late-rally that put him a full lap in front of Jimmy Jarrett at the end of the 200-lap event.

Rutherford, trailing Dallenbach by five seconds when Wally suddenly pulled into the pits, shook his head and got out of the car. Rutherford and Dallenbach had been the only car on the same lap for the last 200 laps.

The victory was Rutherford's third in a row on the USAAC championship trail. The 36-year-old Fort Worth, Texas, driver sandwiched "Indy" and "Pocono" in the May 31 Milwaukee May.

Steve Kreisick finished third, Gordon Johncock, the 1973 Indy winner, was fourth and Bobby Unser, who led most of the race until he ran into tire problems, was fifth. Fourteen of the 33 starters finished the race.

A crowd of 75,000 watched at Pocono International Raceway as Unser, the pole position winner, and Marie Andrett, traded command for most of all. Like girls just like anyone else."

Saturday, with Gibson trying to play "catch-up," was the dullest day in record in recent memory, in fact the English press took note of in Sunday's editions.

But Gibson achieved his aim of getting down to the last 32 — normally the quarterfinalists are known by the first Saturday — while seventh-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands and Manuel Orantes of Spain, the 12th pick, were the first men into the last 16 of the men's division.

Orantes, a clay-court specialist, survived a fifth-game service break in the deciding set against Australia's Tony Roche, player-coach of the San Fernando Bowmen former of the English and French titles prior to his arrival in England, left the tradition-bound members of the All-England club thunderstruck.

Thousands of teenage girls made passage between the courts impossible as they followed the long-haired Viking, who had to have a uniformed police escort to get home on the court, another Wimbledon first.

Gibson, after pressure from tournament officials, agreed to confine Borg's future appearance to the center and No. 1 courts.

Watson fires 69 to capture Western championship

CHICAGO (UPI) — Tom Watson, shooting the best round of the day at two-under-par 69, backed into the final hole to win his first prize in the Western Open Sunday, when front-running Tom Weiskopf bogeyed the 17th hole and double-bogeyed the final green.

Watson, a 24-year-old who never before had won a PGA tour event, made up eight strokes on Weiskopf on the last round and passed J. C. Smid en route to victory in the $200,000 event on the 7,002-yard, par-72 Butler National Golf Club.

Watson finished with 287, three over-par. It was the third straight week in which the tournament winner has been over-par. Hale Irwin seven over in the National Open and Jim Colvin, also three over, before Watson's win in the American Open last week.

Weiskopf, who had two rounds of par and one sub-par round of 70 heading into the final 18 holes, slipped to a 77 for a 285 total and tied Smid for runner-up honors. Smid, who charged into second place with a third-round 71, had a 72 Sunday.

Watson started his bid to win consecutive birdies on the 10th and ninth holes and reached the turn in 34, two under-par. On the back nine, he had two birdies and two bogeys and was three over-par after the bogey-five on the 16th hole. But he parred in to put the pressure on Weiskopf.

Weiskopf, starting the day as the only player in the field under-par, bogeyed twice on the first nine and birdied twice to begin his final-nine holes one under. But he went over-par on the 10th hole, the 12th and the 13th to go two over-par and had to make one birdie to lead on the 14th.

Watson won the reader in the U.S. Open after three rounds of 71, 72 and 70, and birdied the 14th and 15th to go two over-par and had to make one birdie to lead on the 14th.

Watson birdied the 14th and then went over-par on the 16th to pressure Weiskopf and it proved to be too much.

Weiskopf, on the 17th, drove into a road near a pumping station and after a free-drop, missed the green and had a bogey-to-go-for-three over-par, equaling Watson's score at that point.

On the 18th Weiskopf drove into an unplayable lie, missed the green after the penalty stroke and finally got down in two to his chance.

Watson's best finish prior to Sunday was third place at Hawaii last year, his second year on the PGA tour. He was in the top-10 seven times last year and earned $74,972, Sunday's prize boosted his total for this year to $116,222.

Watson will be reader in the U.S. Open after three rounds of 71, 72 and 70, and birdied the 14th and 15th to go two over-par and had to make one birdie to lead on the 14th.

Watson birdied the 14th and

Open champion, finished at 293.
